

New measures to better protect women and girls from FGM

Government's first dedicated FGM Summit in a decade brings together government, victim-survivors and third-sector organisations to better protect women and girls from FGM.