

£1.8M funding for granite geothermal research

As part of a major new research programme on environmental issues, the BGS is leading the £1.8M GWatt research project – Geothermal power generated from UK granites.