

13 new bathing sites open across England helping communities and waterways

Designated sites include first-ever site on the River Thames in London