

130 cultural venues, museums, and libraries to receive funding boost that will improve access to arts and culture across the country

130 cultural venues, museums and libraries are set to receive a share of almost £130 million to protect them for present and future generations