

14 government buildings closed in the past year, as savings for the taxpayer reach over £43 million

Fourteen government buildings were closed last year, contributing to savings across the government estate of £43.1 million in the past year.