

£180m Army vehicle contract protects 700 Glasgow jobs

A £180 million contract to deliver cutting edge threat detection technology for the British Army's new Boxer vehicles will support hundreds of jobs in Scotland, it is announced today.