

£31 million contract supports specialist jobs on future fighter jet programme

A £31 million contract for highly specialised engineering support for the Future Combat Air Systems (FCAS) programme has been awarded to UK Defence firm – QinetiQ.