

40,000 people to get skills in new Technical Excellence Colleges

Tens of thousands of future construction workers to be trained up in high-demand construction skills by 2029, delivering growth and helping build new homes.