

£43 million boost for green aviation to drive growth, jobs and cleaner flights

The funding will go towards UK research and development projects that help deliver net zero aviation by 2050.