

£4,500 bonus to attract graduate teachers to deprived nurseries

New push to get qualified nursery teachers into England's most deprived communities so nurseries can offer more childcare places, helping families save money.