

£85 million to support arts and cultural organisations across the country

Local people's access to arts venues across the country set to be protected with cash to support vital repairs and upgrades