

Our bold new integration agenda aims to bring communities together

UKIP's Integration Agenda was launched in London today. The policy document addresses a wide range of cultural issues that have worked against communities coming together. You can read it here: