

A 'golf bag' of robotics could take dangerous jobs from humans

Tracked machines, drones and robot dogs are among the suite of tools defence scientists are working on with pioneers from industry and academia.