

Abuse victims to get specialist NHS support

A new referral service will connect victims with help through their GP and there's up to £50 million for therapeutic support for child victims of sexual abuse.