

Alan Milburn calls for a 'movement' to address lost generation of young people not earning or learning as investigation opens

Former Heath Secretary Alan Milburn has today launched his groundbreaking investigation into the causes of record unemployment and inactivity among 16 to 24 year olds with a call for young people and a range of experts to co...