

Amber Rudd to lead review into safety and security of prisons

Former Home Secretary Amber Rudd will lead a major review to make prisons safer, tackle crime and deliver long-term reform that protects the public