

Armed Forces training of high standard, but too many trainees wasting time in holdover

Ofsted has today published its 17th annual report on the effectiveness of care, welfare and training arrangements for recruits, trainees and officer cadets in the Armed Forces.