

Attorney General launches free Rule of Law lesson plans for every school in England and Wales

Free, classroom-ready lesson plans on the rule of law are now available to every school in England and Wales, following a new partnership between the Attorney General's Office, Oak National Academy and the Association fo...