“Anti-epidemic Support Scheme for Property Management Sector” under “Anti-epidemic Fund” continues to disburse subsidies

A Government spokesman today (April 2) said that the Property Management Services Authority (PMSA), which has been commissioned to implement the "Anti-epidemic Support Scheme for Property Management Sector" (ASPM), has been receiving more applications from property management (PM) companies or owners' organisations. As of April 1, the PMSA has received about 2 500 applications, covering about 20 000 frontline PM workers. The PMSA also notes that applications from more large residential estates are now under preparation and will soon be submitted. The PMSA is proactively speeding up the examination and approval work, with a view to disbursing the subsidies earlier, such that frontline PM workers, PM companies or owners' organisations, and residents can benefit from the scheme as soon as practicable. 315 applications have already been approved, involving subsidies of around $8.7 million and benefiting over 2 000 building blocks. The name of the properties for which applications have been approved has been uploaded to the website of the PMSA.

"The application deadline for the ASPM is April 15. Eligible PM companies or owners' organisations should submit the applications for their respective properties and the frontline PM workers they engage as soon as practicable. There is no need for individual frontline PM workers to make the application, so as to save them from the additional burden in preparing the relevant documents," the Government spokesman emphasised.

The stepping up of the cleansing efforts in residential buildings is crucial to minimising the risks of virus infection and spreading in local community. The frontline PM workers serving these private residential buildings have been under immense pressure. Their workload has been increasing substantially and they are facing much higher health risks given their very frequent contacts with residents during their daily work. Some of them may even be working in buildings with residents under 'home quarantine'. The additional cleansing efforts have created imminent burdens to PM companies and owners' organisations. Through the ASPM, we would provide urgent financial support to the frontline PM workers, and PM companies or owners' organisations, so as to help them better cope with the present public health challenge and would directly benefit the residents in Hong Kong. Each residential and composite (i.e. commercial cum residential) building block may receive a maximum subsidy of $26,000 under the ASPM.

For details on the ASPM, please contact the PMSA at 3696 1156 or 3696 1166, or visit the website of the PMSA (www.pmsahk.org.hk/en/index.html).

CHP investigates 37 additional cases of COVID-19

The Centre for Health Protection (CHP) of the Department of Health (DH) announced that as of 4pm today (April 2), the CHP is investigating 37 additional confirmed cases of COVID-19, taking the number of cases to 803 in Hong Kong so far (comprising 802 confirmed cases and one probable case).

The newly reported cases announced today involve 21 males and 16 females aged between two and 71. Among them, 30 had travel history during the incubation period and 17 are overseas students. The CHP's epidemiological investigations and relevant contact tracing on the confirmed cases are ongoing. For case details and contact tracing information, please see the Annex.

The CHP urged members of the public to maintain an appropriate social distance with other people as far as possible in their daily lives. In particular, they should go out less and avoid social activities such as meal gatherings or other gatherings to reduce the chance of contacting infected persons, who may not present any symptoms, and minimise the risk of outbreak clusters emerging in the community.

A spokesman for the CHP said, "In view of proliferation of the disease and continuous increase in the number of cases reported around the world, members of the public are strongly urged to avoid all non-essential travel outside Hong Kong."

"The CHP also strongly urges the public to maintain at all times strict personal and environmental hygiene, which is key to personal protection against infection and prevention of the spread of the disease in the community. On a personal level, members of the public should wear a surgical mask when having respiratory symptoms, taking public transport or staying in crowded places. They should also perform hand hygiene frequently, especially before touching the mouth, nose or eyes."

"As for household environmental hygiene, members of the public are advised to maintain drainage pipes properly, and regularly pour water into drain outlets (U-traps); cover all floor drain outlets when they are not in use; after using the toilet, they should put the toilet lid down before flushing to avoid spreading germs."

The CHP will report the cases to the World Health Organization, National Health Commission, Health Commission of Guangdong Province, relevant health authorities and the Hospital Authority.

The CHP has set up the hotlines (2125 1111 and 2125 1122), which operate from 8am to midnight daily, for public enquiries. As at 4pm today, a total of 78 546 calls were received.

Moreover, the Government has launched the website "COVID-19 Thematic Website" (www.coronavirus.gov.hk) for announcing the latest updates on various news on the COVID-19 infection and health advice to help the public understand the latest updates.

To prevent pneumonia and respiratory tract infection, members of the public should always maintain good personal and environmental hygiene. They are advised to:

- Wear a surgical mask when taking public transport or staying in crowded places. It is important to wear a mask properly, including hand hygiene before wearing and after removing a mask;
- Perform hand hygiene frequently, especially before touching the mouth, nose or eyes, after touching public installations such as handrails or door knobs, or when hands are contaminated by respiratory secretions after coughing or sneezing;
- Maintain drainage pipes properly and regularly (about once a week) pour about half a liter of water into each drain outlet (U-traps) to ensure environmental hygiene;

- Cover all floor drain outlets when they are not in use;
- After using the toilet, put the toilet lid down before flushing to avoid spreading germs;
- Wash hands with liquid soap and water, and rub for at least 20 seconds. Then rinse with water and dry with a disposable paper towel. If hand washing facilities are not available, or when hands are not visibly soiled, performing hand hygiene with 70 to 80 per cent alcohol-based handrub is an effective alternative;
- Cover your mouth and nose with tissue paper when sneezing or coughing. Dispose of soiled tissues into a lidded rubbish bin, then wash hands thoroughly; and
- When having respiratory symptoms, wear a surgical mask, refrain from work or attending class at school, avoid going to crowded places and seek medical advice promptly.
