News story: UK Space Agency announces new funding for industry

The UK has a thriving space industry. Credit: Airbus.

The grants of €200,000 have been organised by the UK Space Agency and European Space Agency as a new way of applying for funding for technology developments under ESA's General Support Technology Programme (GSTP) which has existed for nearly 25 years.

Dr Graham Turnock, Chief Executive at the UK Space Agency, said:

“The GSTP has proven to be a successful way of building know-how and capabilities in the industry and this latest funding will help keep the UK at the forefront of technological innovation.

“The Government’s recently published Industrial Strategy set out a clear vision for the UK to become the world’s most innovative nation and we are working with industry to capture 10% of the global space market by 2030.”

This new route to GSTP funding allows those interested in the programme to propose a project for development in their area of interest directly to UK Space Agency and ESA. In turn the Agency will be able to fund some of these new ideas straight away, and it is hoped continue discussion on other promising ideas with a view to future development.

The UK Space Agency has invested 35 million euros in the current 3-year phase of the GSTP, which aims to convert promising engineering concepts into a broad range of products – everything from individual components up to complete satellites and satellite applications. The only area of technology it does not cover is that related to telecoms, which are covered in other ESA programmes.

The new funding is aimed at smaller ‘entry level’ projects, in both upstream and downstream, capable of de-risking technologies.

The funding opportunity is in addition to existing GSTP project opportunities and activity in the UK, and does not affect other engagement with the programme.

News story: Do's and don'ts of completing an application to incorporate a CIC

Do's and don'ts of completing an application to incorporate a CIC

Need help with registering your Community Interest Company? We've identified the most common mistakes for each document you need to submit and compiled a list of Hints and Tips to get you on your way.

These are the forms you need:

Send the documents by post to Companies House with the £35 filing fee.

The form IN01

Do

- check that the company name you want is available by using Companies House Webcheck
- make sure the company has the name ending CIC, Community Interest Company or C.I.C. and is consistent on all forms
- tick the correct box in A4 – ensure the box you tick is relevant to the type of articles of association that you are sending.

- complete Part 5 – give details of the person(s) that will have significant control over the company (PSC). If there will be no PSC in relation to the company still tell us by ticking the correct box.
- tick L1 – consent statement – to tell us that the subscribers confirm that the people named as a director or secretary have agreed to act in that capacity.
- make sure that all the CICs subscribers sign part N1 individually OR if the CIC is being represented by an agent, complete section N2
- will you have more than 2 directors? Then download the IN01 continuation sheet
- contact Companies House with any queries on the IN01

Don't

- Tick box A3 – although your company name will end in CIC, Community interest Company or C.I.C. this does not mean that your company is exempt from using the word 'limited'.

The form CIC36

Remember your community Interest Statement (CIC36 form) and keep the name consistent with the other documents.

Do

- complete each section of the form – A, B, C and D
- give a clear description of the community of benefit – A
- give a clear description of the CICs activities and how these will benefit the community – B
- complete the 'surplus statement' on the end of section B
- read section C – these are the declarations which are mandatory. You sign section D to confirm your understanding
- make sure that the number of directors that have signed section D are the same number of directors named in the form IN01

Don't

- apply to be a CIC if your main activity will be lobbying or campaigning for or against any local or national political party or government decision
- state in the surplus statement that the CIC will pay dividends to shareholders if the CIC will be limited by guarantee or limited by shares Schedule 2

The Memorandum of Association

Do

- make sure you use the correct memorandum of association for the type of company you have chosen i.e. limited by guarantee or limited by shares
- make sure all the directors named in the form IN01 have signed and dated the document

Don't

- Use separate forms for each person's signature, all signatures must be on one Memorandum

The Articles of Association

Do

- make sure the asset locked body clauses are numbered correctly and correspond with the conditions.
- choose a registered charity, another CIC or a Registered Society as your nominated asset locked body in clause 3.5
- choose the correct limited by shares model – Schedule 2 to pay dividends to asset locked bodies or Schedule 3 – to pay dividends to shareholders
- choose the correct Articles of Association for the type of company you have chosen i.e. limited by guarantee or limited by shares
- complete the objects clause – the Regulator considers it to be good practice for the CIC to complete the objects clause in the articles and some funding bodies refer to this information when considering an application – however it is not mandatory

Don't

- nominate your CIC or a director of your CIC as the asset locked body in clause 3.5
- remove or alter any of the statutory clauses shown in red in our models
- make any additional clauses that will negate the meaning of the statutory clauses

Contacts

- email or telephone the CIC office if you have any questions on the CIC36 form or Articles of Association
- email or telephone Companies House if your questions relate to the IN01 or Memorandum

Do let us know what you think cicregulator@companieshouse.gov.uk

Don't think any question isn't worth asking.

GOOD LUCK WITH YOUR APPLICATION
