

News story: Kate Ellis confirmed as speaker for NIA Decom 2018 conference

Kate joined the NDA in November 2017, taking responsibility for all of the organisation's procurement, contract management and commercial activities associated with cleaning up the UK's civil nuclear legacy.

Decom 2018 – the NIA's first dedicated nuclear decommissioning conference – will cover themes ranging from decommissioning and hazard reduction through to waste management, attracting industry delegates from around the globe.

Kate said:

I'm thrilled about the opportunity to speak at Decom 2018 as this is an exciting time for the nuclear industry, particularly the decommissioning sector. I'm looking forward to sharing my thoughts about the future of the NDA and the opportunities we have ahead of us.

Tom Greatrex, Chief Executive of the NIA, said:

We are delighted that Kate Ellis is joining our impressive line-up of speakers at Decom2018 – the priorities of the NDA, and activity across the NDA estate, are vitally important for the UK's civil nuclear supply chain so this will be an important and popular session at the Conference.

I would encourage those with an interest in work across the NDA estate to register for Decom2018.

Decom 2018 will take place on the 18-19 June 2018 at London's iconic County Hall. Visit <https://decom2018.co.uk/> for more information.

News story: Applications are now closed

Applications are now closed – GOV.UK

The application window for the Civil Service Fast Track Apprenticeship is now closed.

The Civil Service Fast Track Apprenticeship is now closed for applications for this year.

Thank you to everyone who has applied, good luck during the process and for those of you who are successful we look forward to seeing you soon.

For those of you who have applied but unfortunately not been successful this year, try not to worry. Not everyone gets through on their first time and you will be eligible to apply again during next year's application window.

If you have applied with the last few days, please remember that you have 5 days from application and confirmation to complete your online tests.

Published 4 April 2018

Thank you for your feedback