

Imperial College Healthcare wins at Stamford Bridge

Chelsea Foundation, the charity of Chelsea football club, invited key workers from three NHS trusts in north-west London to compete in a tournament at Stamford Bridge.

How Imperial's clinical researchers rose to the challenge of vaccine trials

Ellyw Evans from Imperial College London's faculty of medicine speaks to staff from Imperial's Clinical Research Facility about how they adapted their work during the pandemic to deliver several Covid-19 vaccine trials.

New series to put Trust research in focus

To coincide with International Clinical Trials Day 2021, Imperial College Healthcare is launching a new video series that will shine a spotlight on the Trust's role in vital clinical research.

Trust joins UK Health Data Research Alliance

The Trust is one of four new organisations to join the UK Health Data Research Alliance, which works to create a unified approach to the use of health data across the UK.

Trust Green Plan launches today, boosted by £26.9 million decarbonisation grant

Imperial College Healthcare today launches an ambitious 'Green Plan', setting out its response to the challenges of climate change.