

Matron receives chief nursing officer for England gold award

Winnie Thomas has been awarded the chief nursing officer for England's gold award for nursing excellence in recognition of her lifetime of achievement in nursing.

Reproductive health researcher named as Dean of the NIHR Academy

Professor Waljit Dhillon has been appointed as the new Dean of the National Institute for Health Research (NIHR) Academy.

How green is your hospital? 'Better hospitals' seminar available to watch

In our second 'Better hospitals' seminar we discuss what new, super-sustainable hospitals could look like and what the NHS can do now to help reduce the health impact of climate change.

Cleaners, porters and catering staff to continue to be directly employed

All cleaners, porters and catering staff will continue to be directly employed by the Trust following an evaluation of 'in-house' arrangements put in place on 1 April 2020.

Bob Alexander announced as interim chair

Bob Alexander is to take on the role of interim chair from 1 April 2021, taking over from Paula Vennells who is standing down as chair at the end of March.