

Automated passenger services permitting scheme: government response

The safety of automated passenger services (APS) will be independently assessed, monitored and enforced to ensure they operate responsibly in the UK.