

Barriers to work removed for disabled benefit claimants as landmark legislation introduced

Disabled benefit claimants will be given the right to try work without the immediate fear of losing their benefits, with new legislation laid today (Thursday 9th April).