

Beyond the headlines: what research shows on children's online lives

Hear from the Government Chief Scientific Adviser about why understanding the balance between benefits and harms is key to a safe digital world that safeguards children.