

Billions to be redirected back into patient care with NHS reform

Health Secretary announces plans to redirect billions of pounds from NHS reform back into patient care