

Boost for defence businesses and European cooperation as UK joins defence exports treaty

The UK has joined a defence exports treaty with European allies which will make it easier for UK defence businesses to export