

Bringing expert insight into UK Government

News story

Sign up to the Outside In events series for civil servants

Officials don't always have time or opportunity to explore the latest expert thinking. To help remedy that balance, the Open Innovation Team has organised more than 50 expert talks over the past two years. Speakers have included Nobel Prize winners, astronauts, journalists, historians and experts in lab-grown meat. Abhjit Bannerjee, Tim Peake, Adrian Wooldridge, Shoshana Zuboff, Geoff Mulgan, Rana Mitter and Marriane Ellis have all been particularly popular.

Our events are open to any official working in the UK government, with the only stipulation being that you must have a gov.uk (or equivalent) email address in order to register. Over 20,000 officials have registered for our events since March 2020 and you can sign up here to receive our regular events newsletter.

Published 17 May 2022