

Britain's return to responsible global leadership will help drive growth at home, Prime Minister to tell United Nations

Britain will return to responsible global leadership under my watch, the Prime Minister will tell the UN General Assembly in New York this week.