

British Ambassador Visits Conservation Project in Guatemalan Verapaces

A UK project has achieved significant milestones as it draws to a close after working for three years in close collaboration with local partners in Alta Verapaz.