

British businesses continue optimistic views about Taiwan economy

According to the latest survey results, optimism towards Taiwan's economy was solid among respondents, consistent with previous results.