

British businesses fly the flag for UK legal services in Canada

Leading law firms are heading to Canada to strengthen the UK's foothold in a key global market, boosting the UK economy and keeping the country at the heart of the international legal industry.