

British economy sees defence dividend as new figures reveal above inflation increase in spend with industry

Government spending in the UK defence industry grew by 6% in real terms to £31.7 billion, according to latest figures for 2024/25 published today.