

British High Commission celebrates Day of the Girl Child with football

UK efforts to increase access to sport for young girls in India has now supported over 164,000 children from marginalised communities.