

Budget-related materials to be available online tomorrow

The Financial Secretary, Mr Paul Chan, will deliver the 2022-23 Budget to the Legislative Council at 11am tomorrow (February 23). The full text of the Budget Speech and other related materials will be released simultaneously on the Budget website (www.budget.gov.hk).

The public can also watch the live broadcast of the Budget Speech delivery by the Financial Secretary at the Legislative Council meeting, as well as the Budget-related press conference, a television forum and a radio programme, on the above-mentioned website.

To reduce social contact, members of the public may access the information online. A small quantity of Budget Speech copies and a leaflet highlighting key Budget proposals will be available for collection tomorrow afternoon at the following 11 government office buildings for members of the public visiting those places:
