

Bus driver who killed child after taking drugs has sentence increased

A driver who killed a nine-year-old girl after falling asleep at the wheel of a bus under the influence of drugs had his sentence increased following the Solicitor General's intervention.