

Businesses go global via Hong Kong

â€‹The Productivity Council's The Cradle – Going Global Service Centre offers one-stop support for tech enterprises. Among them is a Beijing-based autonomous driving tech firm which has successfully entered the Middle East market.

News.gov.hk spoke to a representative from the Productivity Council about the centre's professional support, while the tech firm's representative shared their experience of going global via Hong Kong.

The story is available at www.news.gov.hk/eng/feature from today (May 25) in text and video format.