

Businesses lead pledge to champion women's equality and root out misogyny

Top employers are the first to join the Minister for Women and Equalities to support the women's sector and stamp out misogyny.