

Chancellor backs the North's industrial strengths with new investments

New jobs, opportunities and major regeneration for communities and businesses will be created in the North as the Chancellor backs the region's industrial strengths with new investment.