

Chancellor sets out plan to crackdown on profiteering and drive Britain's energy security

Households across Britain set to benefit as Chancellor acts on food prices, energy bills and profiteering – taking action on cost of living pressures while securing Britain's long-term energy independence.