

Chancellor's new investment fast track to make Britain top destination for global investors

The Chancellor has launched a new one-stop support service to make the UK more attractive to global investors and create jobs and opportunities for working people across the UK.