

Charity regulator appoints interim managers to international aid charity amidst ongoing investigation

The Charity Commission, the regulator of charities in England and Wales, has appointed interim managers to Barnabas Fund, which is also known as Barnabas Aid.