

Chief Secretary appoints experts to lead review of Green Book discount rate

Review will ensure government is taking a fair view of the long-term benefits that arise from transformational investments.