

Children to get swifter justice thanks to renewed Victims' Code

Government will work with children to create the first ever child-friendly version of the Victims' Code