

Civil engineering: CMA sets out concerns and options for better outcomes

CMA interim report highlights persistent issues in the civil engineering market for roads and railways – which appear to hinder UK growth and productivity.