

CMA concludes market investigation with major reforms to veterinary sector

The CMA has set out its final reforms – which will start coming into force later this year – to help pet owners better navigate the vet services market.