

CMA consults on releasing Google from Privacy Sandbox commitments

Protections secured by the CMA are no longer needed after Google stepped back from plans which could have favoured its business in multi-billion-pound online advertising sector.