

CMA investigates Ryanair over charging parents to sit with children

Budget airline Ryanair is under investigation by the CMA over fees that parents must pay to sit with their children – including those with disabilities.