

‘Coaching is about helping you go from good to great’

As Government Skills launches a new coaching service, developed for civil servants by civil servants, a coach and their coachee share their experiences.